The universal success which has attended the use of Dr. Covert's Balm of Life has rendered it extremely popular as a cyre for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Dyspensia, Liver Comply, ut., Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, &c. The proprietor firmly believes that it will cure the above complaints ninety-nine times out of a hundred, if used in season and according to directions. The public are particularly requested to exomine the testimonials from physicians, clergymen and others who have used the article. It is to be found at the office of Dr. Covert, 135 Nessau-street, and of all the agents. We feel it our duty to say a word for Dr. Fleming's Medicated Worm and Diarrheea Candy. They certainly are the most saln'ary in those complaints of anything we have yet known.

Resolved. That JAMES VAN NOSTRAND, Esq. be elected the Delegate to represent the Third Congressional District in the Whig National Convention to be held at Baltimore in May next, to nominate candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency of the United States. The Convention then balloted for a Substitute, which resulted in the choice of DAVID GRAHAM, Esq., who was, on motion, unanimously elected. Committees were appointed to wait upon the gentlemen elect and to draft Resolutions. The following Resolutions, reported by the Special Committee through their Chairman, Calvin Balis, Esq., were adopted unanimously: Resolved, That in the approaching election, as in the past, we contend for those measures of public policy which experience has proved to be wise:—A sound National Currency; an equal distribution of the proceeds from the Public Lands; a Tariff, which, providing for the just and economical ex-penses of the Government, shall be so framed as to encourage ! protect American Labor; and such an administration of the Federal Government as will ensure one of the great ends

I its institution—the general welfare.

Resolved, That to HENRY CLAY, as the able, consistent and unswerving advocate of these measures, as a tried, faithful and patriotic statesman, as an eloquent orator and a thorough, whole-hearted Whig, we look with undoubting confidence as leader with whom these measures will triumph at the elec-on of 1844.

Resolved, That the office of Vice President is too lofty and too responsible to be lightly or inconsiderately bestowed; and that while leaving with cheerfulness to the National Conven-tion the designation of the individual, and to our immediate representative there, in whom we repose entire confidence, un-fettered liberty of choice; we yet desire and trust that a national reputation, and national services, may be deemed essential nalifications in the candidate.

On motion it was Resolved, That the proceedings of the Convention be published under the direction of its officers; and the Convention adjourned, to meet at the National Convention to be held in Baltimore in May next, unless called together by the President at an earlier day. FREDERICK PENTZ, President at an earlier day. FREDERICK III

These beautiful Shades, unlike all others, admit all the air and light into the room and a perfect view into the street—at the same time they obstruct the view from the street into the eal head of hair that sceptics and connoisseurs have pronounced it the most perfect and extraordinary invention of the day. The great advantage of this novel and unique Wig is its being made without sewing or weaving, which causes its appearances so closely to resemble the natural hair, both in lightness and natural appearance, as to defy detection, its texture being so beautiful, so porous and so free, that in all cases of perspiration evaporation is unimpeded, and the great evils of other Wigs entirely avoided. How In 1 of the knowledge of human nature and of society! With what delicate tact is the scene with Thomas John and his party in the Park shetched! The characters of Rascal, of Bendel, and of Mina are master-pieces. How admirably too has the author-while quizzing the weaknesses of human nature, vindicated its worth in the love of Mina, and the noble heart of Bendel! "But the great beauty of the story is that the moral is its finest part. In all the writings of Chamisso there is so sound a moral, and so pure and be autiful a feeling that it is a genuing a moral, and so pure and be autiful a feeling that it is a genuine luxury to dwell upon his pages."

So much says William Howitt, and we think the public will agree with him, after reading his new and beautiful version of the story-forming, as it does, a fitting companion to Miss Bromer's excellent tales.

FAMILIAR LETTERS ON CHEMISTRY and its relation to Commerce, Physiology and Agriculture—by Justus Liebig, M. D. Edited by John Gardner, M. D.

The Letters contained in this little volume embrace some of the most important points of the science of Chemistry in their application to Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Agriculture and Commerce. They were written for the especial purpose of exciting the attention of Governments and an enlightened public to the necessity of establishing Schools of Chemistry, and of promoting, by everylmeans, the study of a science so modern civilized nations.

3. Its producing and engouraging a reaction in the bulb or oot, and particularly in the pulp, which receives the vessels and nerve, giving life and vigor to the hair;
4. Its equalizing the circulation of the fluids;
5. Its freeing the skin from the effects of perspiration, scurf, and dandriff, and disposing the hair to curl;
6. And its frequent use will preserve the hair in beauty and health to the latest period of life.
